

Veterinary Technician Position

Foxridge Veterinary Care is seeking a friendly and energetic veterinary technician to join our positive and supportive team. We pride ourselves on being an independently-owned practice with compassionate, family-friendly, fun people who make work enjoyable while providing modern, high-quality care for our patients. The owners understand and empathize with needing that perfect work-life balance. You can have that and more with our flexible, Monday through Friday schedule, with no weekends and no on-call! We are a 2 doctor practice that schedules 30 minute appointments and 1 hour lunch breaks. We have all the essential equipment to provide exceptional care for our patients including in-house Zoetis labs, digital whole body and dental radiography, cloud-based electronic medical records, ultrasound, and excellent relationships with traveling specialists.

In addition to a competitive wage based on experience, full-time benefits include health insurance, generous paid time off, holiday pay, license coverage, continuing education and uniform allowance, and personal pet discount. We are conveniently located just off the Beltline in Middleton, next to an emergency vet hospital. Middleton is a very desirable place to live, repeatedly voted as one of the top 10 places to live in the US. Apply now to find your new happy place!
